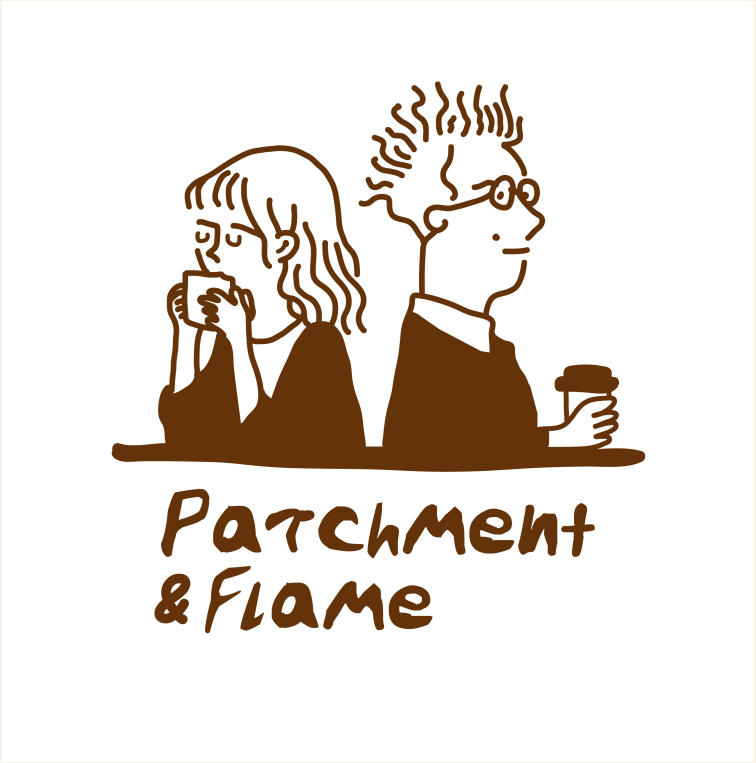
PARCHMENT & FLAME

Specialty Coffee Roastery

Brand Identity Presentation / Three Creative Directions



01 / Shared Ritual

02 / The Master Roaster

03 / Origin & Alchemy

The Brand Narrative

The name Parchment & Flame represents two essential stages in the journey of specialty coffee: the origin of the coffee bean and the craft of roasting.

01 / PARCHMENT

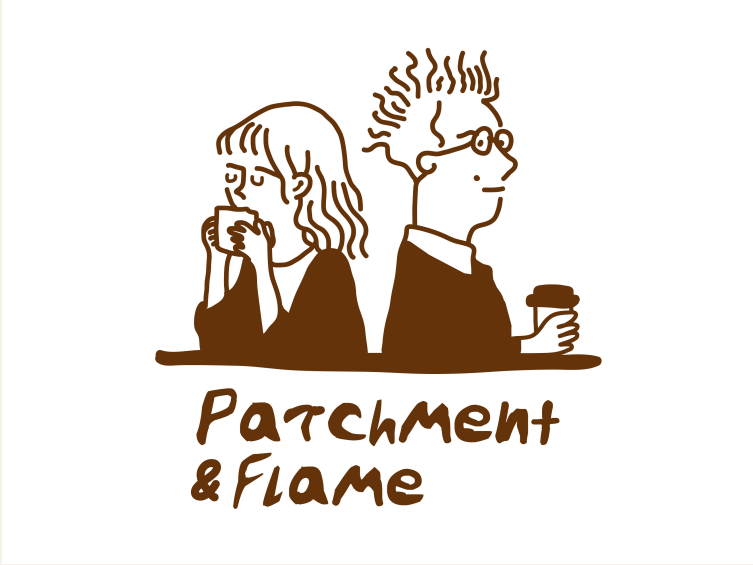
Parchment refers to the thin, papery protective layer surrounding a coffee bean during processing. It symbolizes the bean's origin, its natural journey, and the care taken to preserve its quality.

02 / FLAME

Flame represents the heat used in coffee roasting. It symbolizes the skill, precision, and control required to transform green coffee beans and develop their distinctive aromas and flavors.

Together, Parchment & Flame expresses the connection between thoughtful sourcing and expert roasting - from caring for the bean to mastering the roast.

Three ways to tell the story



01 / Shared Ritual

Artisanal Connection

Two people, two elements of the name. Coffee becomes a shared human ritual.

02 / The Master Roaster

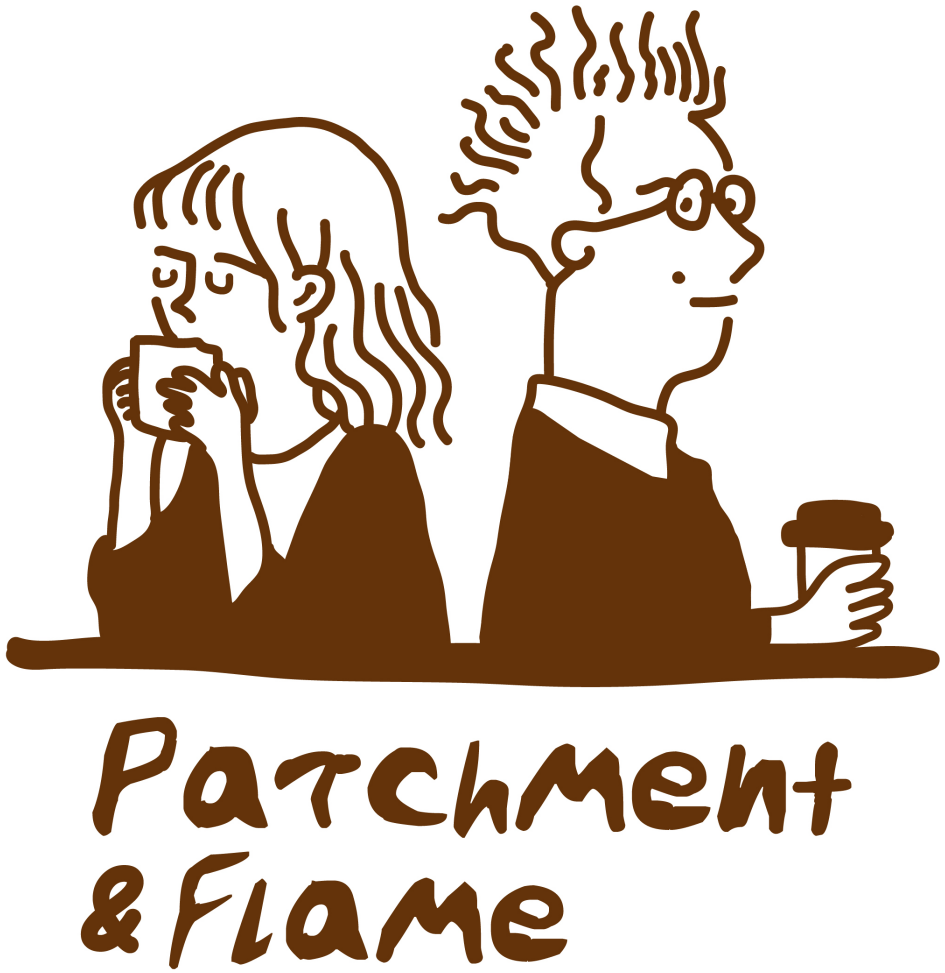
Bold Roaster Character

An expressive character gives the flame a confident, recognisable face.

03 / Origin & Alchemy

Heritage Ritual & Craft

A traditional pot over a flame makes the coffee ritual the central emblem.



DIRECTION 01

Shared Ritual

Artisanal connection

The original concept gives both halves of the name a human presence. The woman represents Parchment and the bean's protective layer; the man represents Flame, warmth and energy.

Together, the two figures make the identity feel personal, conversational and welcoming.

Two characters. One shared ritual.

Parchment & Flame

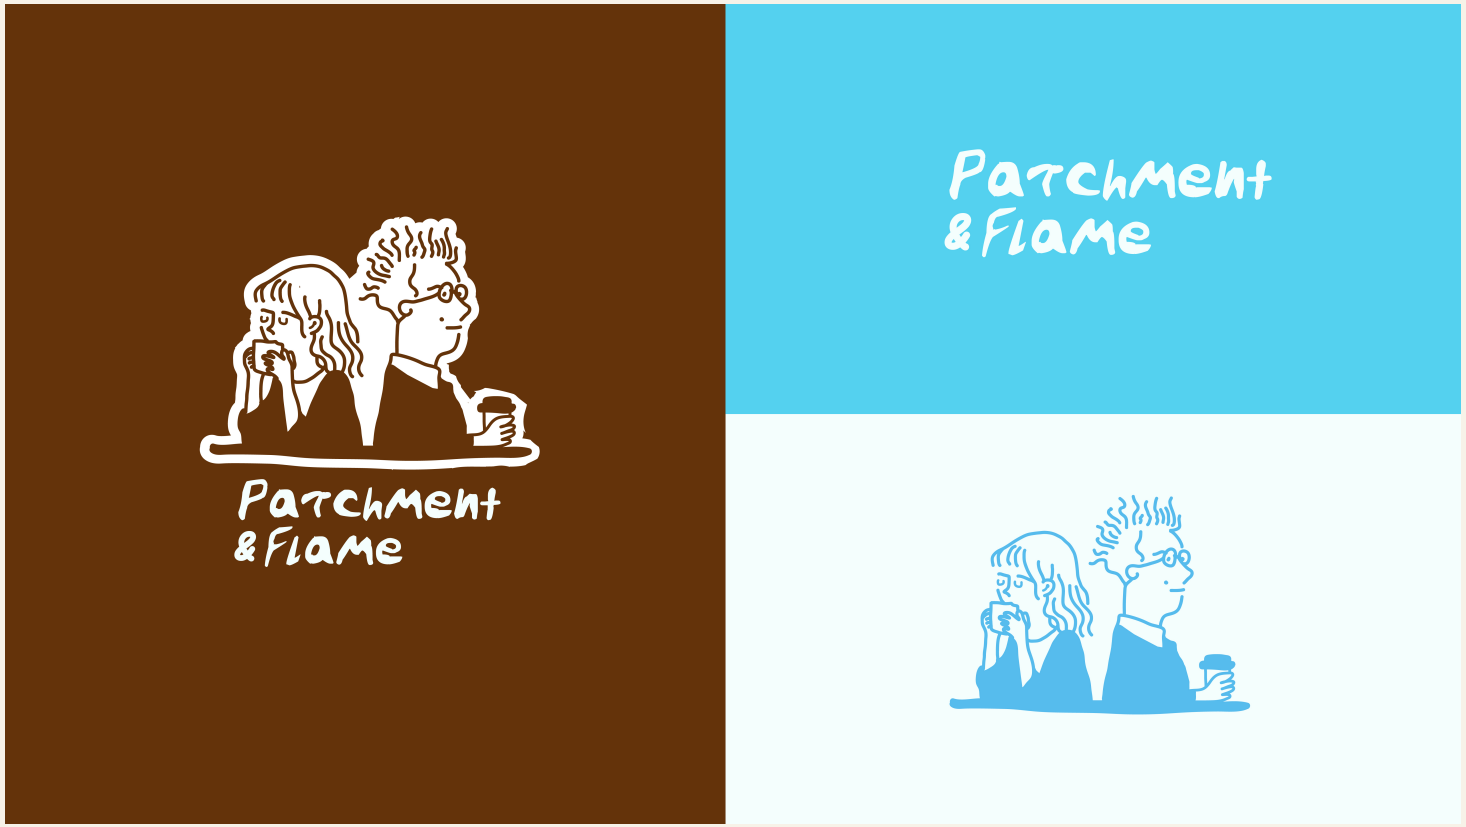
The illustrated pair

A shared baseline brings two distinct characters into one scene. The cups keep the connection to coffee immediate.

The brush-script wordmark

Loose strokes echo the hand-drawn figures. Keep the illustration and lettering in their original relationship.

Espresso warmth, a cool counterpoint



Espresso brown
#64330A

Bright cyan
#54D1EF

Pale mint
#F4FEFD

Illustration blue
#56BCED

Colors sampled from supplied artwork.

Color relationships

Brown anchors the identity. The supplied cyan wordmark panel and blue illustration introduce a fresh contrast.

Typography roles

Preserve the original brush-script wordmark as artwork. Tenor Sans headings and Source Sans 3 text support this presentation without replacing it.

DIRECTION 01 / APPLICATION

A welcoming presence on the street

Projecting round sign

The original storefront application shows the complete brown lockup on a light circular sign.

Packaging considerations

For a future coffee pouch or cup, keep the full lockup away from seams and test the script at the smallest intended size. These applications are not shown in the supplied material.

DIRECTION 02

The Master Roaster

Bold roaster character

The original character draws its energy from Flame. Curly hair, round sunglasses and an assured gesture create a relaxed, distinctive personality.

The expressive face becomes a memorable point of recognition for the brand.

A character with a clear signature

PARCHMENT & FLAME

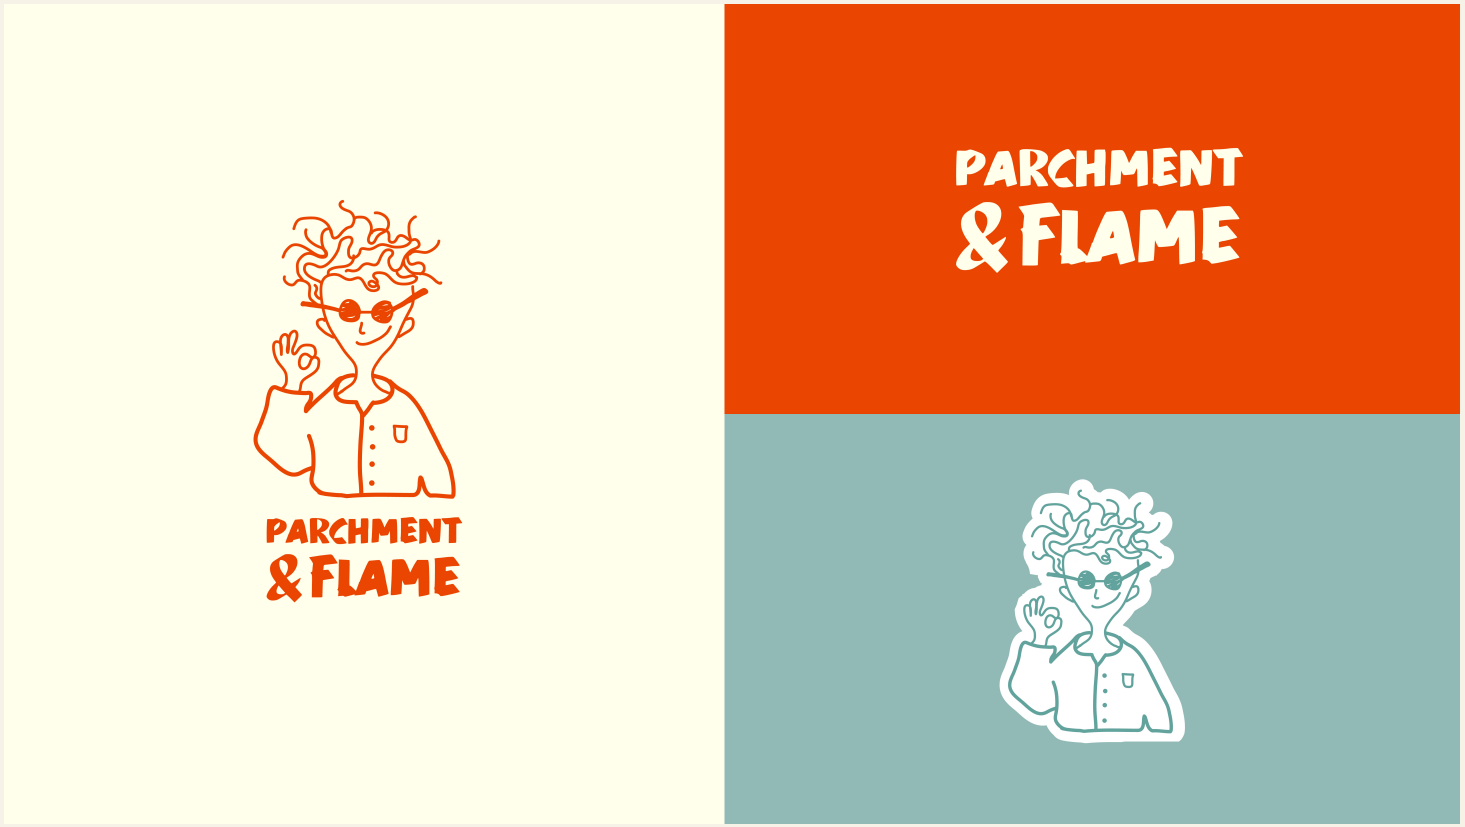
Expression and gesture

The curls and round glasses establish the silhouette. The raised hand adds confidence and a sense of personality.

The display wordmark

The bold lettering carries the same lively character. Preserve its original forms, spacing and relationship to the illustration.

Flame orange meets quiet sea green



Flame orange
#EA4501

Warm cream
#FFFFEB

Sea green
#91BAB6

Character green
#62A39D

Color relationships

Orange supplies the energy; cream and sea green give the character space. Reversed artwork is already included in the original concept.

Visual language

Use the supplied character and bold wordmark consistently. Avoid adding competing illustration styles around them.

Colors sampled from supplied artwork.

DIRECTION 02 / APPLICATION

A familiar face, carried out into the city

Paper carrier bag

The supplied paper-bag application places the orange character and wordmark together on a light surface.

Cup application considerations

Before extending the identity to a cup, test the complete character on a curved surface and keep the glasses and hand readable. A cup mockup is not included in the supplied material.

PARCHMENT
& FLAME

DIRECTION 03

Origin & Alchemy

Heritage ritual & craft

The original concept brings the coffee experience and the energy of flame into one emblem. A traditional pot makes the ritual tangible; the flame supplies warmth and transformation.

The textured linework gives the identity a crafted, tactile character.

The vessel and the flame

PARCHMENT & FLAME

The coffee-pot emblem

The pot, long handle and flame form a single scene. Preserve the hand-sketched texture and the original geometry.

The crafted wordmark

Irregular letterforms echo the drawn emblem. The existing lettering remains part of the supplied artwork.

Golden parchment, fired orange

Parchment gold
#F4B72B

Fired orange
#F06129

Pale parchment
#FFFBE8

Reversed lettering
#FFFEE2

Color relationships

Gold provides warmth; the supplied orange alternative gives the emblem another expression. Light parchment supports both.

Tactile character

The texture comes from the client's original linework. Paper stocks and print finishes remain choices to test, not established production specifications.

Colors sampled from supplied artwork.

DIRECTION 03 / APPLICATION

A ritual made visible

Pavement sign

The supplied street-sign application gives the pot-and-flame emblem a prominent place on a light surface.

Packaging & merchandise considerations

For future bags, labels or merchandise, proof the textured lines and gold contrast on the actual material. These formats are extensions to evaluate after direction selection.

Choosing the right expression

Qualitative design review of the supplied concepts. Production performance remains to be tested.

	Shared Ritual	The Master Roaster	Origin & Alchemy
Scalability	Check facial detail and script at small sizes.	Check hair, glasses and the raised hand at small sizes.	Check textured lines and the flame at small sizes.
Shelf impact	Warm brown and a paired silhouette; compare at shelf distance.	Bright orange and a distinctive character; compare at shelf distance.	Gold and orange with a crafted emblem; proof contrast on pack.
Brand story alignment	Both name elements represented through the two characters.	Flame expressed through an energetic personality.	Coffee ritual and flame combined in one emblem.
Versatility	Lockup, script and duo illustration supplied.	Lockup, wordmark and separate character supplied.	Lockup, wordmark and separate emblem supplied.

01 Select the story and personality the brand should lead with.

02 Proof the chosen original at real packaging, cup and signage sizes.

03 Confirm production artwork, color values, fonts and print specifications.